

and the U.O.G. Student Counseling Services is pleased to announce lecture number five in a series

Healing the Wounds of Sexual Assault: Practical Strategies for Working with Victims Across the Lifespan.

conducted by

Dr. Patricia Taimanglo, Dr. Lilli Perez, and Rosemarie Camacho, M.A.

This presentation is intended for psychologists, therapists, school counselors, social workers, advocates, students of the helping professions, or anyone interested in learning about therapeutic resources and techniques for helping child, adolescent, and adult victims of sexual assault. Participants will learn about local statistics for sexual assault victimization, general assessment of the victim's experience, and the practical application of therapeutic techniques, including hands-on experiential activities. Emphasis will be placed on therapeutic resources including books, games, and websites that the presenters utilize in their every day practice. The format will be interactive with the opportunity for question and answer.

Dr. Taimanglo is a Clinical Psychologist who works with Adults, Children and Adolescents. Dr. Perez is the Clinical Director for Project Karinu. Ms. Camacho is an IMFT and a former Examiner Assistant with the Healing Hearts Crisis Center. All three of the presenters have been working with the Healing Hearts Crisis Center for at least five years where they provide therapeutic services to child, adolescent, and adult sexual assault victims.
